

JuergenPeterseim, Australian Representative, EckRohrKessel

JuergenPeterseim is ERK's Australian Representative and based in Sydney, Australia where he is responsible for the local licensee support as well as the development of new boiler/heater applications. After finishing studying industrial engineering in 2003 he started working for La Mont-Kessel GmbH (an EckRohrKessel licensee). In this role he was involved in several energy from biomass and waste projects, as well as cogeneration projects.