

Dr Kate Auty, Commissioner for Environmental Sustainability, State of Victoria

Dr Kate Auty is a graduate in Arts (honours)/Law, Masters of Environmental Science, and has a PhD in Law and Legal Studies.

Previous employment includes:

- private practice as a solicitor
- senior solicitor Royal Commission into Aboriginal Deaths in Custody (Victoria, Tasmania and Western Australia)
- lecturer in environment and heritage interpretation
- consultant on native title and local government and greenhouse emissions
- barrister
- Magistrate in Victoria and Western Australia
- Chairperson Ministerial Reference Council on Climate Change Adaption
- Member Premier's reference committee on climate change.