

Marianne Lourey, Executive Director - Energy Sector Development Division, Department of Primary Industries (DPI)

Marianne Lourey is currently the Executive Director of the Energy Sector Development Division of the Department of Primary Industries (DPI). Her division's responsibilities include the development of energy markets and a framework for sustainable energy, renewable energy investment, and energy security.

The Division has been actively involved in the design of a national emissions trading scheme – initially with the other states and territories through the National Emissions Trading Taskforce and more recently working with the Commonwealth Government on the design of the Carbon Pollution Reduction Scheme or CPRS. The Division has also developed policy initiatives that are complementary to an emissions trading scheme including the Victorian Renewable Energy Target scheme, which will be rolled into the Commonwealth Government's expanded Renewable Energy Target, and the Victorian Energy Efficiency Target or VEET scheme.

Marianne's previous professional roles include Manager Network Regulation at the Essential Services Commission, Director at KPMG providing advice to a range of participants in the energy industry, a number of roles within ABB to general manager level and an engineer with the former State Electricity Commission of Victoria.

Marianne has a first class honours degree in Engineering (Electrical) and an MBA.
